MEDICAL.

TAKE

For all diseases of the Liver, Stomach and Spleen. WILL CURE DYSPEPSIA.

I MUST OWN that your Simmons' Liver Regulator fully deserves the populari-ty it has attained. As a family medicine it has no equal. It cured my wife of a malady 1 had counted incurable -that wolfsbane of our American people, Dyspepsia. A. E. P. ALBERT, Professor in Nicholas Pub-lic School, Parish of Terrebonne, La.

MALARIOUS FEVERS You are at liberty to use my name in praise of your Regulator as prepared by you, and re-commend it to every one as the best preventive for Fever and Agus in the world. I plant in southwestern Georgia, near Albany, Georgia, and must say that it has done more good on my plantation among my negroes than any medi cine I ever used. It supersedes quinine if taken in time. Yours, &c., Hon, B. H. HILL, Ga.

CHILDRENI-Your Regulator is superior to any other remedy for Malarial Diseases among children, and it has a large sale in this sec-tion of Georgia. -[W. M. Russell, Albany, Ga.

CONSTIPATION.

TESTIMONY OF THE CHIEF JUSTICE OF GEORGIA.-I have used Simmons' Liver Regulator for constipation of my bowels, caused by a temporary derangement of the liver, for the last three or four years, and always, when used according to the directions, with decided benefit. I think it is a good medicine for the derangement of the liver—at least such has been my personal experience in the use of it.

HIRAM WARNER,

Chief Justice of Georgia.

SICK HEADACHE.

EDITORIAL-We have tested its virtues, personally, and know that for Dyspepsia, Biliousness and Throb-bing Headache, it is the best medicine the world ever saw. We have tried forty other remedies before Simmons' Liver Regulator, but none of them gave us more than temporary relief; but the Regulator not only relieved but cured us.—[Editor Telegraph and Messenger, Ma-trying one PACKAGE IN MASH I found it to cure in every instance. It is only to be tried to prove what I have said in its praise. I can send you certificates from Augusta, Clinton and Macon, as to the cure of horse.

sity life the larger conceptions of German universities. In Germany the bureaucracy, as well as all the professions, must pass through a course of university training. Even Roman Catholic priests must take their general education within a university. The essential idea of German universities is that they are not only teaching institutions but also the repositories of human knowledge, from which the life of the nation should be fed and sustained. The German universities always aim at the fulfilment of three conditions of existence. They contend that a university should give the fullest representation of existing learning in its academic staff; that it should widely diffuse that learning through its teachers; and that it should widen the boundaries of learning by the researches of its professors, fellows and graduates. This high and full conception of university life is not much more than half a century old in Germany, but it has already produced a marvelous development of culture among the people.
Though no German university would be considered complete unless its professional faculties were in as full activity as its philosophical facu. lties, still the separation of unversity education from the State license to practice diminishes the tendency to Brodstudien, and induces students to master the sciences as thoroughly as the technics of their professions. Study for knowledge and not for examination distinguishes the German from the English universities. The highest culture which the nation possesses is given through university training, but the culture is a true one, for it is not merely disciplinary, but is a preparation of the mind for an intelligent and scientific pursuit of a life's occupation. The German university degrees are altogether subordinate to the system of education and often are not taken at all. The degree which corresponds to our B. A. is passed on leaving the school, and is a simple Maturitatszeugoiss, while the doctorate in philosophy of the university corresponds to our honors, and is essentially special in character. It resembles the restricted selection of our modern schools and triposes. A German university degree. therefore, represents a profound knowledge of one or two subjects. This leads to a specialty in the subject of professorial prefections, and has laid the foundation for that amazing ad-Having had during the last twenty years of my life to attend to Racing Stock, and having had so much trouble with them with Colic, Grubbs, &c., gave me a great deal of trouble. AN ACT OF HEROISM.-It is no uncommon thing to hear of heroic conduct on the part of sailors and officers of ships and steamers in cases of shipwreck or disaster, and sometimes similar acts of personal courage and fidelity characterize the conduct of railroad officials in cases of accident or collision. A marked instance of this kind of heroism has just come under my observation, and I feel sure that its publication will gravity your many readers, while, at the same time, it may inspire other conductors of railroad trains to greater fidelity and higher-personal courage in the hour of extreme peril.

A few nights since as the express train on the Atlantic & Richmond Air Line Railroad was stopping for a few moments at a station near Mount Airy, a special train composed of an engine, tender and one car came rushing up behind, and was about to dash itself into the rear sleeping each of the Lucus line. The conductor of this ear, Mr. George A. Southall, was standing on the platform of the sleeper at the time, and could have jumped off and escaped all danger. But scorning to desert his post, Mr. Southall rushed into the car, and placing himself in front of Mrs. Leftwitch, wife of Rev. J. T. Leftwitch, D. D., paster of the Central Presbyterian Church of this city, he exclaimed, "My God, they are running into us." And standing there at his post, between her and her two little girls and the threatened danger, this noble fellow met the crash and shock of the collision, and by his brave action no doubt saved their lives. As it was, all were buried in the debris of the sleeper (which was shatter d into splinters by the colliding engine) and more or less bruised, but not seriously is jured. I do not know this heroic conductor, but from the lips of Ray. Dr. Leftwitch I have received the brief but intensely interesting story of his fidelity to the safety of his passengers, and that, too, in the very face of death itself, as there seemed to be no way of eccape from such a terrible fate. Let me, therefore, place upon the "Roll of Honor" the name of George A. Southal'.-Atlanta
